TESTIMONIALS

"Chelsea is what the Millennial entrepreneur values most: authentic, relatable and inspiring. We had the pleasure of having her speak at our UnConference during Millennial Week DC 2016. Chelsea kept the audience engaged, entertained and excited, which was reflected in the overwhelmingly positive feedback we received."

- Natalie Moss Gooden, Executive Director MillennialWeek

"I had an opportunity to meet Chelsea at a Speaking Event in D.C. She was personable, professional and surprisingly open about her entrepreneurial journey. She even shared business startup tips and emphasized the importance of establishing a foundation with which to build layers upon. I highly recommend following Chelsea and attending some of her seminars and webinars if you can. The platform she created gives a much needed voice to Millennials and helps others understand our generation. She's an inspiration and bridge builder for all."

- Shanay Miles, Digital Marketing Professional

"My customers are event professionals, one of the hardest groups of people to impress. Providing an amazing program for 200 of your customers who have seen just about everything is a daunting task. If it doesn't go well, the ramifications are immense. Choosing the right speaker, of course, is the critical piece. Chelsea delivered, plain and simple. Easy to work with, professional, prepared, relevant and her positive energy is contagious. If you're looking for a big win and a sure thing, look no further!"

- Jordan D. Clark, Vice President of Sales Caesars Entertainment
